OLD SCHOOL NEWS Stoke Climsland & District

March 2020 ISSUE 226

WE'RE SORRY THAT THIS ISSUE IS BOTH LATER AND SMALLER THAN USUAL

Just to cheer us all up: the first signs of spring are here.

A few days into the compilation of this issue our editor, Mary Ruchards was taken ill and rushed into Derriford - see below for a progress report. At first it seemed best to just cancel the issue but the Old School trustees felt strongly that an issue should be produced, even if it was smaller and later than usual.

Unfortunately, because of work commitments and other issues Ren Jackman was unable to complete the compilation of this edition.

What you see here is the consequence. Some contributions are locked away on Mary's computer and not available to us. With Linda Ainsworth's help we hope that we have been able to include all of the advertisements and with considerable help from our contributors we have been able to include a reduced spread of editorial content.

To anyone whose contributions have been mutilated we apologise. If we have inadvertently omitted an advertisement, we're sorry and will adjust invoices accordingly. To our readers, we hope that we can get back on track in a month or so.

BUT WE WILL NEED HELP. PLEASE TURN TO PAGE 2 AND SEE WHETHER YOU CAN GIVE US A BIT OF YOUR TIME AND SKILL TO ENSURE THE CONTINUATION OF THE OLD SCHOOL NEWS.

MARY RICHARDS

Mary was taken (rushed would be a better word!) into Derriford and had some life-saving surgery. After passing through the Intensive Care and High Dependency Units, Mary was admitted to Stonehouse Ward for rest and continued observation. Having seen her on the Ward, I can assure our readers that she appeared well on the way to recovery and the old spark was still there.

At the time of writing this (February 24th), we are expecting Mary to be transferred nearer to home, to Liskeard Hospital. After that, she should be back in her home in Callington and picking up her keyboard to continue editing the Old School News. Obviously we don't know when that will be.

On behalf of everyone, we wish Mary a full recovery and we look forward to the resumption of her e-mails reminding us of impending copy deadlines.

THE OLD SCHOOL NEWS NEEDS YOUR HELP

THE REALITY IS THAT, IF STOKE CLIMSLAND WANTS THE OLD SCHOOL NEWS TO CONTINUE SOME NEW PEOPLE MUST STEP FORWARD. OTHERWISE IT WILL VERY SOON FOLD.

Linda (who manages the advertising), Michelle, Deri and John can offer advice, support and training to anyone who would be willing to take on the tasks. It's not difficult but the Old School News needs commitment and care. Stoke Climsland has a unique and award-winning newsletter. Are we willing to let it fail? This issue is a stop-gap. It's late and we regret that we've had to leave out quite a lot of things.

As things stand, Mary is recovering in hospital and is expects to come back as editor as soon as she can. But neither she nor we know when that will be.

Ren will not be continuing as compiler as she has many other work commitments which make continuing with the OSN impossible.

Michelle has told us that she would like to pass on control of the distribution as soon as possible.

Beyond the next issue Deri and John will not continue to fill the gaps - both have moved on to other things.

Please see the notice opposite.

WHATEVER THE FUTURE HOLDS WE KNOW THAT YOU WOULD WANT TOJOIN US IN THANKING REN JACKAMAN AND MICHELLE TURNER FOR ALL THE WORK THAT THEY'VE PUT INTO THE OLD SCHOOL NEWS OVER THE LAST FEW YEARS

Real Junk Food Project Community Lunch

Plymouth's Real Junk Food Project (RJFP) has been working since April 2016 as part of a national network of Real Junk Food projects across the UK.

Our mission is simple - to feed bellies, not bins. We do this by working with local supermarkets, businesses, shops, food producers and farms - intercepting food that would otherwise be thrown away, reducing needless landfill and feeding hungry bellies with delicious food instead.

We have been coming to Callington Methodist Church, Haye Road, PL17 7JJ, on the first Friday of each month since September 2019 and still need more customers. The hot meals provided are for anyone and everyone on a 'pay as you feel' basis. Please come along on Friday, March 6 from 12 noon 1.30pm

Further information from Louise 01579 388840

The IT Clinic at The Old School is in session every Tuesday afternoon from 2 until around 4 pm. Nigel, Rosemary and Deri will be there to help you with any laptop, tablet or mobile phone usage problem you might have. We don't do repairs! We've even got some i-pads we can loan to those who might want to try before they buy. We charge a modest £2 to cover room hire. If you want any more information, please give Deri Parsons a call on 01579 370319 or send him an e-mail (derrick.parsons@btinternet.com).

THE CLIMATE EMERGENCY IS WITH US! NOW! What can WE do about it?

Well, there's our own Climate Change Action Group (see page 4 for the next meeting) And below are two local initiatives that should interest all of us.

CLIMATE CHANGE TALKS

Here's a chance to debate and ask questions at three sessions at The Old School. In each session two or more speakers will give short presentations, to be followed by your questions to all of them. We hope to promote lots of discussion and sharing of ideas.

The focus will be on learning about climate change and understanding what we can do to help deal with it, household by household, here in Stoke Climsland.

Light refreshments and a bar will be available. The evenings will be free, though you are invited to donate to cover costs. It will help us to manage numbers if you can phone or email the Old School office (01579 370493 or theoldscholl78@gmail.com) to let us know that you're coming.

All events start at 7-30 pm at The Old School.

Free Fruit Trees for your Garden !!

In response to Climate Change and the plan to plant as many new trees as possible in Cornwall, The Tamar Valley Orchards Volunteers proposes a new Project. We would like to provide a fruit tree for every garden in Stoke Climsland Parish over the next 3 years.

The plan is to:

- Hold 2 apple or pear grafting sessions for about 10 people each, teaching them to graft and doing as many as possible. Dates probably between 18th and 22nd March.
- Plant the young trees out in rows in our orchard plot at Luckett to grow on. Teach care and maintenance of the young trees.
- In summer teach groups how to bud other fruits (perhaps cherry, apricot, nectarine, fig, plum or damson); plant them out in nursery rows.
- In year two or more, teach how to plant out in gardens.
- In years 2 and 3 graft or bud more trees; with more people helping to teach, momentum builds up across the parish.

Grants may turn out to be available. However, the cost will be minimal if people pay for their new trees at the cost of the rootstock.

Some fruits, eg apricots and figs, may do better than others if temperatures warm up. Using different rootstocks, trees could be espaliers, small trees, medium or large ones. Some Tamar Valley local varieties can be included.

If you are interested in joing this scheme, PLEASE BOOK NOW, telling us

- your name and contact details
- your choice of fruit tree and what size will fit your garde
- if you would like to receive a fruit tree, or to come and graft your own fruit tree(s),

Please phone on 01579 370411, or 07976 727618

AND WHEN YOU NEED TO RESTORE YOUR ENERGY LEVELS WHY NOT COME TO THE SATURDAY MARKET DAY BREAKFAST AT THE OLD SCHOOL?

Sausage, egg, bacon, hash brown, tomato, mushrooms and baked beans: all that for a mere £4. Where else can you get such a delicious bargain? Cooked to order just as you like it with quality ingredients. What have you got to lose? Your waistline, possibly. But, you can tell yourself it's all for a good cause. Great news, as well as our delicious full English breakfasts we are now going to be adding a vegetarian option as well. Same price, same deliciousness. Open to all. Served from 9am until noon.

LAWRENCE HOUSE MUSEUM

9 Castle Street, Launceston PL15 8BA Tel 01566 773277

Your local free museum re-opens on March 30th. From now on the museum will be open every Saturday and we have a new curator, Dr Damon Dennis, who has previously worked in the Ashmolean and Pitt Rivers museums in Oxford.

We start the year with 'Prayer & Persecution' which tells the story of religion and worship in Launceston and the surrounding community where there wasn't much time for dissenters, martyring Catholic Cuthbert Mayne and imprisoning Quaker George Fox.

In April local artist Karen Howse will begin her project 'The People's Herbarium' inspired by William Wise's wonderful six volume Herbarium on permanent display in the museum. Nature walks and print workshops to appeal to all ages are planned.

In August the museum will be hosting the Launceston and North Cornwall Motor Club Centenary exhibition in the Mayor's Parlour. The club was started in 1920 by an enthusiastic group of motorcyclists as The Dunheved Motor Club. To help make the exhibition really special, the club would like to hear from anyone who has personal or family memories, photographs, video, film, programmes, results, awards, certificates etc related to the club and which they might be willing to lend. If you can help please contact Joe Caudle (phone 07495 358904 or email joe@lncmc.co.uk). To find out more about the club visit http://www.lncmc.co.uk/

The museum continues to host the monthly 'Fake or Fortune' free valuations of your treasures by Richard Hamm of Bearnes, Hampton & Littlewood. He will be in the museum from 10am - noon on Tuesday, March 17th.

The museum is open Monday to Saturday and all Bank Holidays until Saturday 31st October from 10.30am -4.30pm, last entry at 4pm. You can contact us on 01566 773277 or by email lawrencehousemuseum@yahoo.co.uk

OLD SCHOOL AND STOKE CLIMSLAND NEWS - MARCH 2020

NOTICEBOARD

Music and poetry at The Old School

On Friday May 1st, writer Jane Newberry will present us with a delightfully eclectic music and poetry evening. Two contemporary poets, James Brookes and Jane herself, will take us on an enigmatic journey, and as Jane puts it, "Their readings will be punctuated by the beauty of solo Bach partitas played by acclaimed violinist Paul Mathews, with added social comment from a recorder trio led by Rachael Budd".

The recorder is known in Italian as 'flauto dolce' (soft flute). During its heyday it was traditionally associated with "birds, shepherds, miraculous events, funerals, marriages, and amorous scenes", (quote from the NWE). Rachael Budd's trio will be adding "social comment". Intrigued? Readings from two contemporary poets will guarantee enchantment. James Brookes is "...a poet of high humanity, and a consummate talent", (Martha Sprackland). Michael Morpurgo said that Jane Newberry's "Rhymes make you want to clap and laugh out loud!" So, Music and Poetry comes to The Old School.

To book your £5 tickets, (including refreshments), phone 01579 370493, weekday mornings. Or email theoldschool78@gmail.com. Pay at the door or call in at The Old School office. The concert supports St. Sampson's Church, South Hill.

WHAT'S ON AT STOKE CLIMSLAND SPORTS & SOCIAL CLUB

A big thank you to all the members who came to the Members' night. Lots of you turned up so the Club was full. Another a big thank you to Jenny, Jane and Kath who made the tasty nibbles we all enjoyed. It was great to see so many people at this very enjoyable event.

The Club was also full for the January quiz. This had a Cornish and nautical feel which really stretched the teams. In the end the 'Fullmatch' team won but they had sailors on their side - it is much easier to identify knots when you are a sailor! Many thanks to Martin and Lyn for devising the quiz.

Our next quiz will be on March 21st. See you there? Remember, you can follow us on Facebook and keep up-to-date.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME AT STOKE CLIMSLAND SPORTS AND SOCIAL CLUB

We are open Wednesday to Sunday 8 pm to 11 pm and, when there is an event, on Saturday 7.30 pm to midnight. If you want to know more, come to the bar to find out. Alternatively you can telephone the secretary Louise Power on 01579 370819 or email: louisepoweraok@msn.com

Tai Chi with Adam Benjamin

A new morning class starts in Callington on Wed 4th March 10 – 11am at the Scout Hut PL17 7BE

Tai Chi is a health system originating in China that enhances wellbeing and promotes stability through gentle, flowing yet powerful movements. It improves circulation, is recommended for fall prevention and in dealing with stress related symptoms. Regular practice leads to an inner sense of tranquillity and confidence. Beginner classes are open to everyone regardless of age or experience.

Adam has practiced tai chi for over 30 years. He is a student of the late Rose Shao-Chiang Li a senior instructor with TCUGB and a National Teaching Fellow.

See website for class times and costs or phone Adam for more information on ${\bf 07961055351}$

First class is £5.00, £8.00 thereafter or you can sign up for six classes* at the cheaper rate of £45.00 (*these classes don't have to be consecutive)

Invisible ME – The story so far

'We all get tired....is often the response frequently faced by many of the 250,000 people in the UK who are living with ME/CFS (Myalgic Encephalomyelitis/Chronic Fatigue Syndrome).

However, the experience of exhaustion in ME/CFS is qualifiedly different from ordinary tiredness and is often accompanied by debilitating flu like symptoms. In addition to a range of other symptoms from brain fog to muscular pain, a major source of distress is disbelief, even sometimes within families and health professionals.

he condition is much misunderstood and there is no effective treatment or cure.

In response to this situation we set up Invisible ME to try and identify people living with the condition in East Cornwall and area, set up a mutually supportive network and, using the creative arts as a vehicle, promote wider understanding of the condition.

We have been distributing leaflets, posters, writing press releases and visiting people who responded. We interviewed a number of them and collected their stories and experiences, which were deeply moving.

Thanks to grants from Cornish funding body FEAST and the Big Lottery, we have been able to engage the skills of artist Tanya Morel, who is helping us create a travelling exhibition to tour local venues in the spring. Building on this we are working with playwright Jayne Newton Chance to create an original theatre production based on the testimonies of local ME/CFS sufferers, carers and health professionals This will tour in autumn 2020.

We are very grateful for the support of the Old School where this initiative is based.

If you would like to learn more or are interested in being involved in any way please contact David Oddie or Hilary Doe on 01579 370642.

UPDATE ON PROGRESS WITH STOKE CLIMSLAND PARISH HALL

As you may recall, The Prince's Foundation and the Stoke Climsland Parish Hall CIO members hosted two drop-in sessions in the Parish Hall on 22nd November last year and welcomed many people through the doors during the afternoon and evening. It was wonderful to update you all on the development of the design proposals, the response from the pre-application advice and to discuss options to formulate a final design proposal. We canvassed views on the proposals with a paper questionnaire on the day and an online survey which ran until 30th November.

A record of the drop-in sessions, along with the presentation boards and the questionnaire responses have now been combined into a written report, which can be seen online through the Facebook page and also in hard copy format in the Parish Hall itself. If you are interested, the secretary of the CIO can send you an electronic copy if you contact him (secretaryscph@gmail.com).

As those of you who attended on the day will have seen, the CIO are in discussions with the Duchy of Cornwall Estate about purchasing the Hall, which would be an exciting development for the future of the Hall. The CIO are now reviewing revised designs following on from the feedback given at the November event, which will then form the basis of a full planning application. By the time you read this the formal full planning application may have been already submitted. Keep an eye on the online Planning Portal, our Facebook page and noticeboards for more details and information on the public consultation phase. This will be your opportunity to support this important and exciting project for the Parish.

Down on FRESH SHOOTS AND NEW BEGINNINGS!

the Farm Spring may still be around the corner, awaiting another late Easter, but signs of the countryside awakening are all around us. Hedgerows coming into bud, grassland and cereal crops are greening and wildlife is coming out of hibernation, with birdsong filling the air - all as nature intended!. For us 'Down on the Farm' - a renewed hope for another season and the very reason for our continued passion to farm as custodians of our Great British Countryside.

So it is with some dilemma, as we plan our business for the years ahead, as to which direction we take in terms of food production, land management and climate change. Now finally having 'Got Brexit Done' we await both a revised Environment Bill and a newly introduced bespoke UK Domestic Agricultural Policy (DAP) to replace the long standing (47 year) EU Common Agricultural Policy (CAP). There are indications of each promoting conservation and biodiversity as the sole reward for 'public goods' through financial support in place of the current EU Basic Payment Scheme (BPS), which is to be phased out over a 7 year transition period.

The evidence suggests the management of our countryside to be paramount over food production. Without exaggeration British agriculture and the Countryside are both about to face major change not seen in 70 years. For signs of those 'fresh shoots and new beginnings' we all need to be best prepared for the challenge ahead 'Down on the Farm'.

Our apologies to the author for having to bluepencil a lot of his original article.

On the day thousands of us were dragged kicking and screaming in outrage out of Europe I happened upon a slim volume at the back of my bookcase called 'Confessions of a French Baker'.

panky Not hanky over the paninis, as the title suggests, but a handy little guide to baking baguettes and other delights of cross-channel brilliant breads.

The writer was the late Peter Mayle, author of 'A Year in Provence' in conjunction with master baker Gerard Auzet whose family have run a boulangerie in Peter's home village for generations and who is a fantastic baker.

I must confess I bought the book in a fit of enthusiasm after reading the Provence series but never quite got around to actually producing bread.

There's no excuse now. All the ingredients are readily available, which some weren't then. It's mainly about baguettes, the classic bread often bought twice a day to make sure it's really fresh.

The recipe requires care, weighing everything is essential, even liquids. You need some specialist flour but to my surprise the bulk of the flour is just ordinary plain. Instructions are clear and precise.

As well as baguettes, there are other breads too, including a delicious sounding bacon one I must try.

I had thought the book might be out of print, but Amazon has it. Used from a penny, plus postage, new around £7.

Puffballs

I have been challenged over last month's item in 'Notes on Wheels' where I mentioned eating puffballs.

I made it up, they said. No, I didn't. I should have said my friend was a fanatical forager of fungi long before it got all cheffy and trendy.

I was often presented with bags of strange looking mushrooms, which he would happily cook but I would sadly bin or compost. This was because my grandmother often regaled me with stories of a whole French family, including little children, found stiff and cold and very dead, round the dining table having consumed a casserole of mushrooms without checking for angel death caps.

I loved mushrooming and eating mushrooms but became extra vigilant in case I was found stiff and dead after dinner. As for puffballs, you can eat them. They should be young and firm and all white with no gills. Wash them well before slicing and frying or the can be made into fritters. Or, in fact, used as a substitute for button mushrooms.

THE YOUTH OF STOKE CLIMSLAND SPEAK OUT

On Wednesday 5th February, nine pupils from Year 6 at Stoke Climsland Primary entered a Youth Speaks competition which was held at Callington Primary School. They all said that it was a great experience and that they would definitely recommend it for other children to do. There were three teams of three. One of the teams debated about veganism, another team talked about whether families should have access to the internet and the last team talked about the SCHOOL pros and the cons of electric cars. The team talking about veganism (Charlotte Doney, Jasmine Turner and Neva L'Arbalestier) came third, only just missing out on going through to the final. Congratulations and well done to all teams who competed.

REMEMBER: The deadline for copy for the next issue of the Old School News is March 5th with copy to be sent to Deri Parsons - see the note on page 3

Our AGM is held in February and following this meeting, Simon Miles spoke to us about his 'Forest Garden' near Falmouth.

He has over 30 years' experience in horticulture as a tree surgeon, running the local parks department, even practicing herbal medicine and now offers consultancy and training in the organic, sustainable and low-maintenance growing of food.

Our human diet 8,000 years ago was very different from today's reliance on grains and yet humans were taller and possibly healthier than in the last few hundred years.

Not much in the way of fruit was available as apples (originating from Kazakhstan) hadn't yet arrived in Europe but various berries, nuts and legumes with dandelions and nettles were readily available. Later, the cultivation of grains allowed human societies to grow more food leading to the concepts of land ownership, wars etc.

Modern farming practices have a heavy reliance on oil and are not sustainable in the long term. Deep furrow ploughing results in soil loss and large fields of the same crop are more susceptible to pests requiring spraying. An alternative approach is to have food plants of different heights all planted with trees such as alder and autumn olive (elaeagnus umbelata) to act as both wind-break and nitrogen fixer, together with pine, sweet chestnut, mulberry, apples, almonds, plums, blueberries, rambling kiwi ...Planting is in layers, spaced to let the sunlight in.

Our next meeting is on March 2, 7:30pm in the Parish Hall. Suzanne Malcome will talk on 'Bee Gardening', all welcome.

OLD SCHOOL AND STOKE CLIMSLAND NEWS - MARCH 2020

Stoke Climsland Women's Institute

At our February meeting we had a very informative talk about the life of Nancy Astor, from one of our own members and Blue Badge Guide, Chrissie Le Marchant.

Nancy was born in 1879 in Virginia, USA to a wealthy family. Her second husband, Waldorf Astor, was born in the USA but spent most of his life in England.

In 1908 Waldorf and Nancy Astor bought a property in Elliot Terrace, Plymouth and Waldorf was elected as MP for Plymouth in 1910. However, after the death of his father in 1919, he became a Viscount and was forced to resign as an MP. Nancy saw this as an opportunity to become an MP and so she also campaigned in Plymouth. In 1919 she was elected and became the first woman to sit in Parliament.

Your Lounge & Hallway. Just £35.00

In the House of Commons she spoke out for the oppressed and for women's rights. During the Second World War, Viscount Astor was made Mayor of Plymouth so Nancy also carried out duties as Lady Mayoress. She remained an MP until 1945. Recently a statue of Nancy Astor was erected outside her former home in Elliot Terrace, Plymouth and a GWR train was named after her.

The talk gave us a great insight into her life which was made even more realistic as Chrissie came dressed 'in character', even down to the hat!

We are currently preparing our new programme with some very interesting talks in the pipeline. If you would like to join, us we would love to see you on the second Tuesday of the month in the Parish Hall, Stoke Climsland at 7.30pm.

MARY ATKINSON'S NATURE DIARY

SPRING IS ON ITS WAY

The usual unsettled weather of winter never prevents the odd hedgerow flower opening. Occasional

Red Campion, Lesser Celandine, Barren Strawberry and Primrose can be seen here and there and the first hazel catkins opening their dangling 'Lambs' Tails', first in sunny corners and then with a rush all along the lanes, coincide with clumps of Snowdrops. Both single and double forms are well naturalized in many places. Barren Strawberry, not to be confused with the later Wild Strawberry, sets no strawberry fruit , hence its name. The petals of Barren Strawberry are round and separate from each other. The true edible Wild Strawberry petals are longer, pointed and are close to each other.

The rooks up Downgate Hill were laying claim to their nest sites back in January and about nine nests had survived the winter from last year. However they were probably pretty ramshackle because a short sharp blow a couple of weeks later dislodged all but three and a bit so they'll have to start again. At the time of writing, (just before the copy date of 5th Feb.) they aren't yet showing any sign of twig carrying and rebuilding.

There is early white blossom of Bullace or the very similar Cherry Plum appearing now. These members of the plum family flower earlier than Blackthorn (Sloe) The flowers are a bit larger, less crowded on the stem and usually show the first signs of a few leaves unfurling too, while Sloe, a much spinier shrub, always flowers well before the leaves appear. Sloe is common and widespread whilst the Bullace and Cherry Plum are less frequent and usually at least originally introduced. They don't fruit as readily as sloes, but some years Bullaces will bear a heavy crop, resembling a small Damson and will make tasty jam if you sweeten it enough and can be bothered to get the stones out. And Bullace Gin goes down just as well as Sloe Gin I find! The yellowish or reddish Cherry Plums are seen even more seldom, maybe because there are few pollinating insects around so early in Britain.

A crop of what looks like Fodder Radish has been planted in a field just north of Rezare.

Mary Atkinson

Images from top: Cock Chaffinch; Barren strawberry; bullace blossom.

With our apologies to you and to Mary for mono photographs - we just ran out of colour space this time. We hope to do better in future issues.

CALLINGTON TWINNING ASSOCIATION

As related in the February edition, Callington & District Twinning Association will be hosting visitors from Germany, France and Estonia this Easter. In total 70+ guests will be coming to meet up with old friends or build new friendships. It has now been confirmed that the Estonians and Germans will be arriving on Thursday 9th April during the late afternoon and will be leaving in the morning on Monday 13th to catch a late afternoon flight. The French party will arrive on the evening of Friday 10th and will leave on the Monday evening ferry.

Many of our guests have already arranged accommodation, but there are a couple of Estonians who would appreciate a bed for the duration of the visit, as well as eight places for some Breton musicians. A full programme of events will be arranged for the guests and their hosts so there will be no great need for catering.

If you would be interested in opening your home to welcome a guest/guests, please give Chairman Sue Lumley a ring on 01579 382705 to talk things over. You may wish to only get involved on this occasion, or you may be interested in having a permanent "partner family". Be assured: you do NOT need to live in a palatial residence; you do NOT need to speak a foreign language fluently! You WILL have a lot of fun!

Embarking on the twinning journey has radically improved many people's lives and opened up incredible horizons. Don't miss out on this amazing opportunity for you and your family.

On March 25, Dr David Harris from Tamar Valley Health will be the guest speaker to talk about 'Recent developments in the management of side effects resulting from prostate cancer and treatment', continues to improve, Dr Harris' talk will be of interest to anyone diagnosed with prostate cancer.

As medical research

It has recently been reported that prostate cancer is now the most frequently diagnosed cancer in the UK, overtaking breast cancer. The reasons are complex; eg ageing population, better testing, but is also due to men be more open to considering their long-term health, helped also by a number of male celebrities revealing their own conditions.

TAPS exists not only to support men already with prostate cancer but also to raise awareness so that more men may discover their condition in time to improve their life expectancy.

Meetings take place on the fourth Wednesday of each month in the Council Chamber in Callington Town Hall starting at 6pm, (free parking in the main central car park in Callington town centre.) TAPS membership is free and open to men and their partners.

March brings lighter days and signals the beginning of spring, and at Cotehele things definitely spring back to life at this time of year as the house and mill reopen on Saturday, March 7 after their winter deep clean and conservation work.

In commemoration of the sailing of the Mayflower, 400 years ago, you can discover the transatlantic connections of various collection items in the house on the Tide and Time trail in the house.

This features the Birch Box, which is on display for the first time ever. Made by the Huron tribe, it features images of Native American activities and European gentility on separate sides, embroidered with moose hair onto thin birch panels.

We'll be milling flour every Sunday and Thursday at the mill, as we have the last few years, water-levels depending. Water doesn't tend to be an issue at this time of year, so we should have plenty of Cotehele flour to supply the Barn restaurant and shop.

The garden is filled with the joys of spring, with lots of colour coming from the 250 heritage varieties of daffodils which grow here and are a reminder of the Tamar Valley's market gardening past.

We're celebrating this with a Daffodil Festival from March 14-22. During this time there'll be displays of the different varieties, wonderful daffodil sculptures by NAFAS groups, a display in the packing shed by Tamar Valley AONB and garden tours on selected days.

If you fancy walking further afield then why not join a free guided walk in the countryside led by our wonderful volunteer Jane She's leading walks on the second Wednesday of the month, starting on Wednesday, March 11. Meet by the Information Point on Cotehele Quay ready to set off at 10.30am for approximately two hour's walk, with plenty of time to pause and enjoy the views.

You may have noticed that the Cotehele Gallery has been closed through February, well March sees it reopen in a new building by the plant centre, as Bull Pen Gallery. It will open with a preview evening on Friday, March 6, 5-7pm, where artists will be present to meet you and talk about their work while you enjoy canapes and a drink of fizz.

March also sees the beginning of our annual Cadbury Easter Egg Hunt, which runs from 28 March 28 to April 13 this year. It's £3 per trail, with children helping Bunny find musical friends to form Nature's Band, and as always there's a Cadbury chocolate prize at the end.

For more details about everything happening here, do check out our website www.nationaltrust.org.uk/ cotehele and follow our social feeds on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

We're now back in harness - forgive the pun - despite a temporary hiccup due to two of the coaches sadly succumbing to a seasonal lurgy.

At the start of a new term there is often a change in riders or available horses.

Fortunately, we have the same horses, but one of my riders has left the group. Another Duchy College student wants to join us but it depends on whether they're below the weight limit for our horses, and of course we need the all-important form, completed and signed by a parent or guardian. I wait with fingers crossed.

Shortly before Christmas I had another new rider who, though she has quite severe walking difficulties, has ridden before and wished to join our group.

After careful thought, we chose an appropriate horse and worked out how we could help her to mount. She's now again enjoying her riding.

For both these riders, the horses we have available determined whether we could accept them. The first rider mentioned will only be able to ride Cara, our weight carrier. As I have another rider who's near our weight limit, they will have to come on alternate weeks. For the latter rider, we needed a horse that was not too tall and would reliably stand still during a more challenging mounting. Fortunately, we have the use of a College horse, Rum, who fits the bill beautifully.

That's the theory, but however well we think we know a horse, we have to remember that a horse is an animal, not a machine. From time to time even the quietest, most reliable, horse can have an off-day. This is when we're reminded of the immense value of our experienced leaders and alert side-walkers. After all, as with boys, horses will be horses!

Does Lent mean anything for us today? Who would like to spend 40 days away from friends, family and food?

Now, all extreme introverts may say 'yes' and extreme extroverts may respond 'no way'. I'm not even commenting on the issue of food and fasting.

Yet, this is what Jesus did, Lent finds it's genesis in the life of Jesus.

The story in the Gospels tells us that the Holy Spirit led Jesus into the desert to be tempted by the devil for 6 weeks and most importantly, that Jesus came out of this desert experience renewed and focused on doing God's will (Matthew 4 v1-11). If you want to see the story you can go to YouTube and see The Miracle Maker cartoon 'Jesus temptation' (https://www.youtube.com/ watch?v=NjU4yCFDaG8).

Taking time out to reflect on our life and purpose is important. Most of us can't manage six weeks, although the idea of reflecting on life and purpose is attractive for many in postmodern society. So, when believers today observe Lent we are mirroring what Jesus did. People often give up stuff: food, alcohol, chocolate etc. Yet, the idea is really about spiritual values and discovering God in the difficult and hard areas of life. I remember working in Bosnia and meeting the local Orthodox Priest.

He wanted to offer me a feast, but told me he couldn't because we were meeting during Lent. Orthodox Christians abstain from meat, fish and alcohol during Lent and I remember feeling a slight embarrassment, because I'd not actually given up anything like that, food on established military operations can be very good indeed, and so my observance of Lent was meagre in comparison, despite time away from family, friends and home comforts for six months due to God's calling me to serve in the British Army.

Lent, those 40 days before Easter, is when we can can choose to change the pace of life, the monotony and the sameness of each day and week. Yes, we can give up things, such as alcohol or chocolate, but the important thing is to cultivate those times in the day when we can just stop, be in silence, read the Gospel stories in the Bible and talk to God. It may be that you could choose to drop a meal, or a coffee and cake time, and instead pray and read. My suggestion is that by doing this, we will be enriched, like Jesus was, having developed spiritually and know God, who is closer to us than our very breath.

OLD SCHOOL AND STOKE CLIMSLAND NEWS - MARCH 2020

PLEASE HELP US TO SOLVE A PROBLEM!

As the lead organisation in the Callington Carnival, Callington Rotary has been informed that the use of tractors to tow trailers with people on board is no longer viable due to insurance regulations. Along with our partner organisations, Callington Town Council and Callington Lions, we no longer feel that the Carnival in its present form can be continued.

Although the presence of magnificent classic cars and spectacular Harley Davidsons has provided visual impact in recent years, entries for both the floats and the walking categories have not been particularly well supported by entries. Furthermore, to be quite honest, the pavements along the Carnival parade route are hardly thronging with onlookers.

Is it too close to the school summer holidays? Two years ago, the Carnival date had to be changed and it was moved from the traditional slot in early July to the beginning of September. That did not suit many youth groups!

Is it time for a change?

The town calendar is already pretty full and, for a variety of reasons, it would seem advisable to keep the Carnival and the MayFest as far apart as possible. Obviously, MayFest belongs in May – so that limits things somewhat!

To bring a fresh approach and a new challenge to participants, it has been suggested that a lantern parade might be introduced and this would require dark evenings to show them off at their best – but are there any other bright, new ideas that could be considered?

Last year saw no grand fireworks display in Callington. Might a lantern parade in November be one idea to replace that? Could, or should, it be nearer Christmas?

If you have any constructive comments on how we might proceed – or if you would like to become a member of the organising committee – please drop an email to:callingtoncarnival@gmail.com to share your thoughts.

Richard Lumley, President Callington Rotary
